

Christmas Around the World

"Jesus came to save us all!"

Christmas may not look the same at your house as it does at my house. There are so many different Christmas traditions around the world, and even around your own neighborhood! If we are not careful, Christmas traditions can sometimes get in the way of what's most important during the Christmas season. But they can also be a great way to point our attention towards Jesus. He is the reason for the season! One of the things that is so cool about Jesus is that He came to save the whole world. People who look different and sound different, and eat different kinds of foods. He came to save us all! And we can all, in so many different ways, celebrate Christmas around the world.
